

Palm Springs set something of a record Tuesday night. . . the record, compared to other cities, was really magnificent. . . Only one accident and apparently no one injured in that one and only one C. O. 6. . . Translated, C. O. 6 means violation of city ordinance number six which provides that it is unlawful to consume alcoholic beverages to the extent wherein one becomes inebriated. And police say that the city's record would have been perfect if this one inebriant had heeded their advice and gone home instead of becoming belligerent. . . So he went into the klink.

JUST HAD an argument with William, Wild Bill, that is, Rashall. . . He told me that if I'd write "drunk" instead of "inebriated" I wouldn't have to bother him to ask how to spell "inebriated." . . Well, if he would make a New Year's resolution not to take the dictionary off my desk and place it six feet beyond my reach, I wouldn't have to ask him how to spell certain words. . . And that goes for my scissors, my paste pot and my red pencil, too. My very first New Year's resolution was shattered on January 2 when I couldn't find my scissors and I said the bad words.

THE MAIL this week was mostly about my sermon of last Tuesday on traffic. . . Most of the writers agreed—that a "do unto others" attitude was the only thing which would cut the high traffic toll. . . One note, signed E. G. K., was right down my alley. . . The writer urged that plain clothes police in ordinary cars, patrol the highways. . . Then, he wrote, "if drivers thought that any car might be a police car, they'd behave themselves all of the time instead of only when they saw a white car or a car with a red spot light."

WELL, Christmas is over. . . Us husbands can now go through the house, poke into closets, rummage through drawers without that warning shout from the wife: "Stay out of there!" . . . But, oh, those beautiful red neckties! . . . Mrs. G. says that everytime I wear a necktie I start singing "Don't Fence Me In," but that if I must wear them, they've got to be red, the more vivid the better. So Santa Claus brought me the most astonishing assortment of vivid red neckties I've ever seen. . . You'll be surprised, too.

SPEAKING of Mrs. G., she conferred with me on January 1 about a resolution I made long ago when first becoming a so-called columnist on a daily. . . "Remember," she said, "refer to me any way you want but DON'T call me the 'little woman' or 'the wife.'" . . . As she was getting breakfast at the time and had a skillet in her hand, I agreed. . . Never in 17 years of writing a column have I used those terms. . . That was a four-egg skillet. . . So I reaffirmed that resolution.

PALM SPRINGS is going to play a big part in the inaugural next Monday of Gov. Earl Warren. . . Mr. and Mrs. James Whitehorn are going to be there and after the Governor takes the oath, he's going to be their guest at the Hotel Senator. . . Goodwin J. Knight, lieutenant governor, will also be a guest. . . Some thirty high state officials will be there. . . And don't think that Palm Springs won't be mentioned.

JUST TALKED to Chief of Police Gus Kettmann. . . He says Palm Springs set a good record this year. . . There was only one traffic fatality on the books for 1946. . . That is a record to be proud of. . . Fire Chief Bill Leone also said 1946 was an excellent year. . . Outside of that disastrous fire at the veterans' housing project and the Indian store fire, the year was a good one from the fire angle. . . Public Health Nurse Madge Holderman said the Health Center on East Amado road had its biggest year with interest in health high and increasing patronage. She looks for an even bigger 1947, and as for P. M. Swart in the building department, he says if the rush gets any brisker, he won't know what to do.

COMES an insulting letter wanting to know how come I set myself up as a Palm Springs publicity plugger while riding the F. S. P. lounge car each week. That's simple. . . Being one of Lloyd Mason Smith's most avid readers I can discourse learnedly on centipedes, millipedes, tarantulas, scorpions, coyotes and chuckwallas. . . (I always want to put an "a" between the "k" and "w" in that one but have been told I mustn't.) . . . That takes care of the fauna and as for the flora. . . When I get to Banning I know they must be almond trees even if they aren't. . . and at Beaumont, it's cherries. . . I know eucalyptus and pepper trees when I see them and as for the others, when stumped, I just say they're a species of acacia. . . My listeners don't know, either.

A CONTRIBUTOR who used to help me out a lot but from whom I haven't had any ideas lately, returned to the column this week. . . Mrs. William A. Lippman sends in a card setting forth that the village of Blama-

Palm Springs was up in the top brackets insofar as building permit figures were concerned when the last day of 1946 rolled around. In the 12 months of 1946, 537 permits, valued at $6,680,330, were issued. In the same time in 1945, 429 permits, valued at $1,893,590, were issued.

The past year saw more than a three-fold increase over the year before. SIGNIFICANT in the figures, according to P. M. Swart, assistant public works director, was the number of new homes built here. In 1946, 354 new homes, valued at $3,189,682, were started here. In 1945, 171 dwellings, valued at $1,023,908, were started.

With the exception of the last three months of the year, 1946 showed a marked increase over the corresponding months in 1945. BIGGEST MONTH of the year was March when 180 permits, valued at $3,704,200, were issued. That month put Palm Springs third in the state of California in building operations and 11th in the 11 western states, ahead of many larger cities.

Breakdown of permits issued, compiled by Director Swart, follows:

Month	No. Permits	Value
January	26	$ 43,360
February	37	115,485
March	180	3,704,200

September	39	170,800
October	61	318,920
November	47	177,936

Amvets To Meet at El Paseo Tonight

Post 34 of the Palm Springs AMVETS will hold its first meeting of the new year in the El Paseo theater tonight at 8 p.m. Graham Dexter, adjutant in announcing the meeting, declared the business to be discussed at the meeting tonight is of vital importance to the organization and urged all members to attend.

Any veteran of World War II is cordially invited to be present whether he is a member or not, Frank Bogert, commander, said.

To Capitol

Assemblyman Phil Boyd
Goes North Monday

Assemblyman Phil Boyd, former mayor of Palm Springs, will leave for Sacramento Saturday for opening on Monday of the 1947 session of the California Legislature, which has before it one of its heaviest agendas of many years.

The legislator and his family, who now maintain their permanent home in Riverside, have spent the Christmas holidays at their home here on El Alameda. One of the major issues before the legislature this year is solution of the problem of how to finance the proposed modern highway system for California. Governor Warren has made this problem the subject of a "special session" of the legislature that will run concurrent with the regular session during the month of January.

One Accident Only,
One Drunk Case,
on Police Blotter

Jammed to the bursting point with New Year celebrants, Palm Springs saw the year of 1947 ushered in without a serious mishap of any kind nor did it contribute to California's lead in holiday traffic fatalities.

Every night spot in the city reported nothing but good business during New Year's Eve, and there wasn't a hotel room or a cot to sleep on that could be rented for that night.

MOTOR TRAFFIC on Palm Canyon drive and Indian avenue moved at a snail's pace for almost five days before the first of the New Year rolled around. Police reported that despite the traffic jam, not a serious accident occurred within the city limits. Here and there automobiles bumped each other but aside from a bent fender or two and a few hot words exchanged between drivers, no injury to persons from accidents were reported.

Surprising to the Palm Springs Police Department were the few arrests for drunkenness. When court opened yesterday, only one person faced Judge Eugene E. Theriault, charged with too much "celebration."

OUTSIDE the city limits reports filtered in of serious accidents in Riverside county and one murder was committed in Cathedral City. The murderer was apprehended by the sheriff's office.

The only traffic accident that occurred was the one investigated by Patrolman A. J. Kuk. He had received a call to rush down to South Palm Canyon drive, where an automobile had turned over. As he approached the scene, he reported the thought struck him that nobody in the overturned automobile could have lived through such an accident.

ON CLOSER INSPECTION however, the driver of the vehicle was nowhere in sight and is still being sought. Officer Kuk hasn't stopped wondering yet, how a fatality was avoided when the car turned over.

All of the clubs and dining and dancing establishments in the Village were sold out long before New Year's Eve rolled around. The Colonial House closed its doors except to those who had made previous reservation. Its dining room was packed with a capacity crowd. The Pago Pago, Tennis Club, Racquet Club, Mr. Dees, The Dunes and others reported "great business."

Speedy Nags To Run Here At Gymkhana

Featuring some of the fleetest quarter horses of Southern California, horse racing will make its bow to the Palm Springs public Sunday when Los Compadres stage a combined racing and western show at the Field Club.

The afternoon program, listing six racing and six western events, will get underway at 2:30 p.m., and a record turnout of horse enthusiasts from throughout the desert is expected to be in the stands. There will be admission prices for adults and juniors but children under 12 will be admitted free, according to Wall Spalding, president of Los Compadres under whose direction plans for the dual event have been completed.

Phil A. Delano of Palm Springs, widely known in quarter horse circles, has arranged for six match races from among entries from Corona, Pomona, Redlands and Palm Springs. Additional match races are being staged among members of Los Compadres and between the stables of the Palm Springs area.

Comprising the western events which have been planned by Joe Butler and Cliff Campbell are balloon race, children's musical hat event, calf stopping, stake race, open foot race and calf roping.

In charge of the field for the club is "Bud" Hillerman.

This show is one of a series being sponsored by Los Compadres, leases of the Field Club, for entertainment of the visitors to Palm Springs and riding enthusiasts of the desert areas.

Appeal for Clothing Heard in Village

Figuratively dripping with tears, a letter written by a German mother in a Denmark refugee camp, which indicated that she had groped with anguish in choosing the right American word to express her plea for cast-off clothing and "maybe some soap," was received this week by John Archibald of the Palm Springs Drug and Import Company.

The mother, who signed her name as Margaret Lihnor, wrote that the other mother in whose behalf she was writing, a grandmother and grandfather, one daughter of 17, one boy of 14, and two little boys of 5 and a little girl of 3, are unaware that she has written to America asking for clothing, needles, thread, with which to do mending, shoes and soap.

IN CASTING about for some one to write to in this country, Mrs. Lihnor described what she believed to be an act of providence—a London Illustrated News fell into her hand. On its pages she found a picture of "Rich ladies from Los Angeles shopping at the Palm Springs Drug and Import." Her letter is addressed to these ladies.

Archibald, on receiving the letter, declared that he is planning to ask as many of his friends and Villagers to assist him in sending just anything to these mothers, especially clothing, soap and other items Mrs. Lihnor mentioned in her letter.

THE LETTER reads as follows: May you listen for a little true story although in bad English? I will tell you this story. This is a camp for German refugees and some days ago two German officers were sitting between the rest of their property. Twenty months they were in the camp

Hospital Group To Hear Story Of Work Done

Members of the Palm Springs Community Hospital Incorporated, approximately 600 of them, are being asked to attend the annual meeting of that organization to take place January 16, at 3:30 p.m. Village Time in the auditorium of the El Paseo building.

The second meeting since the close of the war, all who are members of the Community Hospital association, are urged to attend. At that time the report of the board of directors will be read, past achievements of the hospital association discussed and future plans projected.

Officially for the first time, the members will be told in open meeting how Ward B of Torney General hospital was obtained as temporary quarters of the hospital and what the future holds in store insofar as a permanent hospital building is concerned for this community.

Home Destroyed in Night Blaze

Fire, its origin unknown, totally destroyed the home of Horace Johnson, on Indian reservation, Wednesday night. The fire department received the call at 9:37 and by the time the fire truck reached there, the one story, five room frame house was completely enveloped in flames. Damages are estimated at $2,000. Firemen were successful in keeping the blaze from spreading.

Later that evening, the firemen were roused out of bed to put out a fire discovered burning in the front seat of an automobile parked about fifty feet north of the fire station. There was no registration card in the automobile and the ownership was undetermined. The blaze was confined to the front seat only.

Getting Ready

Community Chest Puts It's Office in Shape

Workmen, sign painters and office help were hard at work Thursday morning readying the headquarters of the Community Chest for its drive which begins in Palm Springs January 18.

The board of directors of the Palm Springs branch of the American Red Cross, through its president, Raymond Cree, announced that its offices and facilities on the Torney General hospital grounds has been turned over to the Community Chest for the month of January. The Red Cross drive for funds begins in March.

Woman Shot To Death at Court Home

Jealousy Blamed
For New Year's Morning Tragedy

Jealousy is believed to be behind the early morning slaying, January 1, of Mrs. Charlotte Beverly, 39, ex-Navy nurse and mother of two grown children. Behind bars of the Riverside county jail charged with the murder is Marvin J. Tutthill, 43, plumber, and employee of two weeks of a local firm.

ACCORDING TO JOHN A. Neblett, district attorney, Mrs. Beverly died of a single bullet which crashed through her head, fired from a gun which deputy sheriffs report, was in the hands of Tutthill. The gun, a 22 caliber rifle, is reported to belong to Dick Beverly, 18-year-old son of the murdered woman and now serving in the U. S. Army.

Mrs. Ruby Beaver, practical nurse from Beaumont, heard the shot and saw the murder victim drop to the floor of her cottage as she stepped through the door. Mrs. Beverly had just turned to re-enter her home after quieting the fears of her friend, who warned that Tutthill would use the first time they entered the cottage.

IN RIVERSIDE COUNTY jail Tutthill could not recall any of the events that led up to the shooting and fatal wounding of Mrs. Beverly. He also told the district attorney that he was not married to Mrs. Beverly.

In Cathedral City the story was entirely different. There the murder victim was known as a fine mother, a registered nurse who would tend the sick no matter if they were able to pay or not. The evening of her death, she and her friend Mrs. Ruby Beaver, had completed working on a cancer case in which the patient died. For several days involving long hours each day, the two had ministered to their patient.

DECEMBER 31 at 8:30 p.m. the two had stopped at the Knotty Pine for something to eat. About 11 of the same evening, Tutthill is said to have come into the cafe and demanded that Mrs. Beverly go with him. She refused. He then tried to borrow ten dollars of her and this too, was denied. Then, threatening to leave and return to his first wife, Tutthill left the cafe.

Everybody who knew Mrs. Beverly in Cathedral City had nothing but the kindest words to say about her. Paul Clark manager of the court where the murder victim rented a cottage said, despite the statement of Tutthill, the two were married. Mrs. Paul DeHaven who also lives there, said she saw the marriage certificate and Mrs. Adeline McLearn, who with her husband operate the Knotty Pine, vehemently declare the two were married.

MEANWHILE Mrs. Beverly went into the dining room of the Knotty Pine and sat down at a table to listen to the music and talk to friends.

With a parting remark that there was nothing else better to do than go home and to bed, Mrs. Beverly and her friend departed for the former's cottage. Mrs. Beaver had been invited to spend the night there instead of making the long trip to Beaumont at that hour of the night.

All reports, those given by Mrs. Beaver, Mr. Clark, manager of the court and friends who rushed

The old year went out with a shiver at night but the days were delightful, made to order for the throngs of visitors who made Palm Canyon drive look like Broadway on a busy day.

It got down to 33 Monday night but didn't get below 40 thereafter. The last day of the year saw a maximum of 64. It was really nice here.

The figures for the past three days:

Have you ever had a dream in color? Chances are that you will have trouble recalling one that was not just in the sombre monotonies of black and white. The Indians of the Southwest, however, had a way of ensuring that their dreams would be of full Technicolor brilliance. They did it simply by utilizing a wild plant, the leaves and stems of which they either chewed or ground into a liquid concoction and drank. This wild plant contains a powerful narcotic, which, among other things, will make you dream in color! That it is a very potent drug, must be emphasized, for if wrongly used, just a few too many drops, it can quickly cause death. It definitely cannot be handled by the amateur!

What is the name of this strange plant, which is so common as to be worldwide in distribution? Botanists call it the "Datura," country folks, the Jimsonweed or the Thorn-Apple. Names often tell us a good deal about the plant or animal to which they are applied, so first let's look at the scientific name "Datura." What lies behind those six letters? It's hard to believe, but cold-blooded murder, murder that was a profession and art, forms the background of that innocent appearing generic name!

IT ALL HAPPENED like this: In the northern part of India there was formerly a large confederacy or fraternity of ruthless men who worshipped the goddess Kali. Kali the Black, as she was often called, was one form of the Hindu goddess Devi. She was usually depicted as dripping with blood, encircled by venomous snakes, and adorned with human skulls! Many were the obscene and bloody rites performed at her feet, with humans regularly sacrificed to appease her whims! But that was hundreds of years ago. In later years, plain unadulterated murder, usually by the easier and less messy method of strangling or poisoning, had been substituted for these ceremonial killings.

Murder was a profession with these followers of Kali the Black, for their only source of income was from the plunder they gained by such wholesale slayings. What were these people called? They were named Thugs, from the Sanskrit word "thagati" (meaning "he conceals"), and the word thug persists today as our slang term for gangster's henchmen. The cult of thugs was eventually suppressed by the British in 1930, but not until after they had perfected a fast-working deadly poison, which they obtained from a wild Indian plant and which they called "Dhat." It was used by them to stupefy their victims before robbing them, and it is from the Hindu name for this poison, "Dhat," that the generic term "Datura" was later coined by the great namer of plants and animals, Karl von Linnaeus.

The vernacular name "Jimsonweed" has an equally though less exciting history. A common species of the Datura grows abundantly in Peru, where it is locally called "cacho." Seeds of this variety were sent from Peru to Spain, to the noted sixteenth century physician Monardes. This was early in 1564. Monardes grew some of these plants and became so fond of its beautiful flowers, that he sent some of the seed he had grown to a botanist friend in Turkey. This friend grew other Datura plants there, and in turn sent some of the seed back to the great English botanist Gerard. It was Gerard who first gave that species its common name of "Thornapple of Peru." In a very short time, so popular did it prove to be as a cultivated shrub, that it soon was widely grown all over Great Britain.

ABOUT THIS TIME, the colonization of the United States was beginning, and when the first ship that sailed from England to Jamestown, Virginia, left short, there had been carried aboard several of these tiny black Datura seeds, stuck to the cargo. When the ship landed in 1607, these stowaway seeds were unloaded along with the freight, and later dislodged onto the earth, where they took root around the little harbor of Jamestown. Here they thrived under these new conditions, and quickly spread all around the port, becoming so common as to be considered locally a weed. In fact, colonists used to refer to them as the Jamestown weed. In later years, this became shortened to Jimsonweed, its common name today.

In addition to Jimsonweed, the Datura has several other common names, such as Devil's Apple, Mad Apple, Stink-weed, Jamestown Lily, Devil's Trumpet, Derotry, Pomme-epineuse, Dorn-afel, Stechapfel, and Stramonio, in allusion either to the apple-like shape of the fruit, the trumpet shape of the flower, or to the poisonous character of the whole plant. Along the Mexican border in Texas, the people there have a legend that witches use the spiny seed-pods as thimbles, so the plant is called "Witch's Thimble" in that area.

Even in Ireland the Datura has long been connected with the supernatural. There it is linked with the Good People and called the "Fairy Cap." On moonlit nights, the little fairies were supposed to come out and dance, wearing Datura blossoms on their heads as caps. The Irish will also tell you that whenever a breeze rattles the seeds in a Jim-son pod, it is really the Good People whispering to one another.

THE ZUNI INDIANS of New Mexico, who call the plant "Uteawe Kohanna," used the Datura in one of their rain ceremonies. The priests, prior to going out into the hinterland to beseech the birds to sing for rain, would first place powdered Jimson root on their eyes and in their mouth and ears. When this was done, the rain priests were supposed to be able not only to converse with the birds, but to understand their songs!

Among the Hopi pueblo Indians of Arizona, the Datura blossom was used as a model for a woman's hair-do, and many ethnologists firmly believe that the so-called squash blossom type of coiffure was originally patterned after the Datura blossom, and not the squash. At any rate, artificial Jimson blooms are often worn as part of their ceremonial costumes. An extract from the roots was also supposed to cure grumpy persons of their "meanness." The Hopi called the plant "Tcimo'na."

DON CABALLERO

Here it is the first of the New Year—1947 and it looks as if Palm Springs would have a bigger and busier season than ever.

Tuesday night saw the Village welcome in the New Year with parties which, to quote the teenagers, were out of this world. And the week-end between Christmas and New Year's, was merry, too.

AMONG THE GAY groups at the Tennis Club Saturday night was one at which Mr. and Mrs. Channing Wells and Mr. and Mrs. William Dean were hosts.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Burnham, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Markham and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wells.

At a nearby table and enjoying themselves no end were Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Graham, Jake Graham, Mrs. Norman and Miss Joan Bell, Bruce Templeton, Barbara Inman and Ed Ashdown.

ANNIVERSARY dinner marked the evening for Bob Anderson at the Tennis Club and the Doll House. The party started at the Tennis Club where Anderson was joined by Harold Lloyd's two attractive daughters, Gloria and Peggy Lloyd, Bruce Humberstone and his stunning daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Hal Roach Jr.

After dinner the party adjourned to the Doll House where Mr. Anderson was presented with a one-candle-power cake while Felix and Leo played "Happy Birthday to You."

George and Ethel Strebe made the presentation of the cake.

CHRISTMAS was a happy day at the Mathew Hennes home—the whole family was there.

Seated around the groaning Yuletide board were Mr. and Mrs. Hennes, daughter Virginia, daughter Mary, James and her husband, John Jowers, former air force captain and now living at Long Beach, Matt Jr., home from U.C.L.A., Mrs. Hennes' sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Don F. Bue, wife of Westwood, and Mrs. Henry's mother, Mrs. Theodore Bue.

Juan Anne, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bowers, slept through the dinner hour.

RETURNING to the Village for the holidays are Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Barton of San Diego.

They have rented a house here until the first of the year.

They formerly owned a home here on Prescott drive.

GREETING the New Year at the Tennis club as guests of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Malouf were many Village and winter residents.

Among them were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brinkman, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Belding, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kirk, Dr. and Mrs. John Costello, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Marco, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Malouf, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davies.

Early Wednesday morning Mr. and Mrs. Malouf took off for Pasadena and the Rose Bowl game.

FIRST IN A SERIES of merry parties was given the other night by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Belding when they entertained at an informal supper. The occasion marked Mr. Belding's birthday anniversary.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Austin McManus, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davies, Mr. and Mrs. William Malouf, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kirk, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bering, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lyons, Mr. and Mrs. George Roberson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ransom, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Strebe, Mrs. Zaddie Bunker, Mrs. Noble Banks, Mrs. Banks Clarke, Mrs. Upham Bigelow, Mr. and Mrs. J. Darsie Lloyd, Mr. and Mrs. Walter McManus, Dr. and Mrs. John Costello.

AULD LANG SYNE was spread across the town Tuesday night when a progressive New Year's Eve party was staged by a group of Villagers.

It started at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Elliott and then went to the Earl Cordrey home and thence to the Harold Murphy home where the New Year was welcomed. The finale was at the Smoke Tree ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. George Sheahan.

In the roving New Year's greeters ranks were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cordrey, Mr. and Mrs. Walter McManus, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. George Sheahan, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Elliott and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wentworth.

New Year's eve was as orderly as could be expected in town. The Chi-Chi was crowded. For dinner there were at separate tables, Ella Raines, John Payne, Hal Rouch, Frank Morgan, Sterling Holloway, Jerry Colona, Donald O'Connor, Gloria DeHaven, and Mrs. Venable (Fay Bainter), and Mr. Dees' Archie Mayo and Mrs. Mayo. The place was crowded with many out of town business men and local celebrities.

THE PAGO PAGO was festooned with gaily colored serpentine and there were hats and favors for everyone. Some of the guests noted were Kent Tailor and a party of four, Dr. and Mrs. Haversman with a group of eight, Mr. and Mrs. Goldman, guests of the Lone Palm, Art Howard and party, Sam Levine of the cinema world, Drs. Sherman and Traut, and Frank Stell.

At the Dunes where everyone in town dropped in to wish Ruby and Connie the seasons best were among throngs of others, Mr. and Mrs. Cap. Hollingsworth, Mrs. Mike Beckenstien, Mike Dutton and Jerry Nathanson of Cherry's market, also La Siestas Esther Gilbert with a party and Mrs. Peggy Bull escorted by realtor Al Ziskin.

THE COLONIAL HOUSE was so packed that it was hard to tell just who was who, but among the dancers bedecked in tinsel hats was Mr. and Mrs. Bill Fox, the former Myrtal Mack of Newhall.

One of the most interesting doings in town was the opening of the Don Manchester's exotic Bombay Club, which was decorated with poinsettias for the occasion and hosted by Nabob Sarup. Among the diners were poet Don Blanding and a party of three, and Swedish nobleman Axel Linus with a group of five. Mr. Linus sports a very distinguished Van Dike beard, also at the same opening News Years eve and enjoying the delicious currys was a large party of 12 hosted by Mr. Walter Kurshman of the Kurshman of the Grayson stores.

Both the Tennis and the Racquet Club were the background for many beautiful parties including gorgeously gowned women and exquisite decorations.

AT THE RACQUET CLUB Bill Hornstein entertained at a long table in the lounge with a party of 20, and seen enjoying the festivities at the same place, Tony Martin, the Dennise O'Keefe's, Edger Bergen's, William Howards (Dottie Lamour), the Hoagy Carmichaels, Randolph Scott's, the Hal Rouches, both junior and senior, Jessie Lasky, Harold Lloyd, Sterling Holloway, Walter Wanger and his lovely wife Joan Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Powell, Frank Morgan, Spencer Tracy, Walter Brewer, Helon Walker and Mrs. Howard Hawks.

THE CHARLIE FARRELLS got an impromptu surprise party New Year's Eve, staged by the Hal Roache's, a crowd of guests walked in on them with an "embarrass the Farrells" party.

Participants in the little joke were the Roache's, Frank Morgan, Jaime Del Amo, the Lynn Howards, the Russell Haven-

Frances Donovan To Present Next Program at Club

By MRS. JOHN S. LAPP

The Palm Springs Woman's Club will have its first meeting of 1947 on Monday next, January 6, at 2:30 p. m.

Mrs. James Geggie, program chairman, has secured an outstanding personality, Frances Nash Donovan, dramatic re-creator of stage successes, for this meetings' entertainment.

Miss Donovan has been enthusiastically acclaimed by critics and audiences throughout the United States for her unique theatre re-creations, which are presented completely from memory and without benefit of stage properties.

THROUGH her innate poise, artistic intelligence and dramatic subtlety, audiences are keenly aware, from the first moment of her entrance on the stage, that the latter has suddenly become vital and alive and that it is peopled with the contrasting personalities of individuals found within the framework of the play.

Regardless of whether her dramatic vehicle be light, gay comedy or serious drama, the various characters are projected in a crystal-clear manner so that they are both heard and seen as individual entities—real persons —no matter how many are essential to the proper unfolding of story and plot.

JUST WHICH of the current and modern plays in her wide repertoire, Miss Donovan will choose to give has not been announced; but whichever one she does is sure to provide an hour or more of delightful entertainment.

Non-members wishing to attend may do so for the small fee of $1.20.

FILM OR RADIO EXECUTIVES

An exquisite town house apartment on the strip. Ideal city living, perfect for visiting

Masonic Lodge to Meet First Time Here This Month

First meeting of the Palm Springs Temple Association of Masons for the year of 1947 will take place at a date to be announced sometime during this month, according to announcement by Lloyd Simon, president.

In his letter to Palm Springs Masons, Simon declared that the local Masonic Lodge is in the making and should within another month receive its dispensation from the Grand Lodge, pending a review of a permanent charter by the Grand Lodge when it meets again in San Francisco next October.

NEWLY LEASED quarters for the Palm Springs Temple Association in a hall above the Plaza Garage will be used as a meeting place just as soon as the inspector for this district, Willard Babcock, of Riverside, approves of the place and certain alterations are commenced.

Letter sent to Palm Springs
Masons and signed by Lloyd Simon is as follows:
In January there will be a meeting of the Palm Springs Temple Association of which you have made me President for three years. I will not accept this responsibility for another year because I feel I have accomplished the purpose of this organization.

A LODGE is in the making and within another month we should have a dispensation from the Grand Lodge.

The Inspector for this district,
Willard Babcock from Riverside, will pass on the place to meet as soon as alterations are commenced and we should get our dispensation within a month.

The officers have been selected, both the Master and the Senior Warden are Past Masters and those others who have contributed will be Charter Members.

The prospective Lodge has agreed to allow the De Molays to use this room which is above the Plaza Garage but they will need more room. The cost of the Lodge room is $65 per month and we have had to take a three year lease. We hope before that time to have our own building but we have taken this lease as a safeguard so that we shall always have a place to meet. We are indebted to Robert Ransom and Brother Harry Williams for their aid and assistance in obtaining these quarters.

THERE IN ONE FLY in the ointment, the De Molays must have further accommodations and Brother Marvin Sale has a sleeping room adjoining the Lodge room which he is willing to give up.

The rental on this room is $25 per month and it shall be necessary for us to solicit these funds from those individuals who desire to contribute—we should have at least a two year lease which means $600. If 24 members agree to pay $25 each that can be accomplished. Remember these checks should be made out to the Palm Springs Chapter of De Mo-lay and should be deductible from income tax. It may be paid before or after January 1st as one sees fit.

All the renovating in the Lodge room and all the equipment will be paid for by the Palm Springs Temple Association, by order of the Board of Directors.

THE BIBLE donated by Maxine Van Cleef to the De Molays will be used, the carpet for the Lodge will be donated by Wm. Maloof, one of our own Charter members.

I have appointed Francis Crocker and Kenny DuBose as a nominating committee to choose your officers for the coming year.
This Palm Springs Temple Association, I believe, will remain in existence until a Charter is granted to the Lodge and only the Grand Lodge can grant a Charter and they do not meet except once a year—generally October; meantime we here will operate under dispensation issued by the Grand Master.

WE HAVE MADE MANY Masons in the last few years and reinstated some who had become delinquent. More are in the making and I do believe that this has all been accomplished by your interest in the Luncheon Club. Do not let this lag. You have done well for Masonry by attending these meetings.

Finally, let me thank you from the bottom of my heart for the encouragement you have given me to carry on. If it had not been for your attendance at the luncheons and the unsolicited funds donated by you to the Building Fund—I should never have been able to carry on.

Let me repeat, my appreciation to you is unbounded.

Sincerely and Fraternally
Yours,
LLOYD SIMON

Needed at Rectory

There is only one thing missing now to make the rectory of Our Lady of Solitude, Catholic Church, look as new as the oncoming New Year, a prominent parishioner of that church and well known Villager pointed out the other day.

He said that since the delivery of such beautiful furniture for the living room of the rectory, and one of the bedrooms, purchased by Mrs. Thelma Davis, drapes would complete the picture of newness there. The speaker also recalled that it was Thelma Davis who suggested the first Palm Springs Circus in order to raise money to furnish the home for pastors of the Catholic church.

and Unnra gives the good. These workers had nice houses in Danzig, but she was swept all away. They lost everything what they possessed. All got broken. But these mothers are lucky, they have their parents and children with them and some days ago they got the news that the husbands are alive and are in Russian prison. But the women have other sorrows. Winter and no warm clothes, no underwear, no stockings and shoes! Everything they still have is still shabby and rather like rags. Wherever is help?

All of the mothers said: if there is any help it only can come from America.

THE SECOND mother answered: You are right but don't know anybody in America we have no address. But God will help us when it is sincere. He has saved us before, the bombs and the fire and will not forget us. Two days later this mother found an Illustrated News here. There was to be seen how the rich people from Los Angeles and Hollywood were shopping in Palm Springs just in front of a very nice big store: Palm Springs Drug and Import Store.

Suddenly a voice in the heart of the mother said: "here you have an address." And, so dear ladies, I beg your pardon, I am this mother and I write to you and I beg for my family. "Please send us little help. I think you will be nice ladies with good hearts and angel has sent us that paper. That I shall ask you for help. I don't know your names and perhaps you say: what a silly woman, excuse us please, when I trouble you but what does not a mother do. So help her children? Perhaps one or two of you will be kind and send a parcel to us and my family. We don't want new things perhaps you have clothes and so on at the house you don't wear. I beg you pack up what there is fit to throw away shoes, stockings, underwear, rests of wool, and needles and things for sewing and knitting. We shall make new clothes of the old one and we shall be very very obliged to you. We lost every thing and are thankful for everything.

The Moral Caliber of America

By ETHEL GILLET WHITEHORN

When United States Senator Raymond Willis was appointed to the Supreme Court last July by President Truman, he made a farewell speech to his colleagues in the Senate. He touched on many issues of vital importance to the American people, but the high light of his talk was an appeal to strengthen the moral caliber of America. Senator Willis, quoting FBI DIRECTOR J. Edgar Hoover, stated that the Nation is facing a potential army of 6,000,000 criminals and an ever-increasing wave of lawlessness which is feeding the criminal ranks with a never-ending supply of recruits. The vast army of criminals is 10 times greater in number than the number of students in our colleges and universities. Statistics show that the age of 17 is charged with the greatest number of crimes.

Senator Willis agrees with J. Edgar Hoover that there is something wrong, terribly wrong, with a Nation which does not take heed of spiritual and moral values. He believes—and many Americans will agree with him—that liquor is the cause of many of the evils that have overtaken us today. To prove his point, Senator Willis released the following statistics:

THE PEOPLE of this Nation spend a total of seven billion dollars annually for intoxicating liquors. That is more than the assessed value of all the church property, including church buildings, hospitals, schools, and camps in the United States. Our people are spending as much each year for intoxicating liquors as all the church-going people have been able to preserve in church property and improvements in the last 170 years. This is not only the concern of the moralist and the preacher and the educator; it must be the concern of the Government itself.

The strength of a nation is measured by the moral fiber of its people. The children of today are the citizens of tomorrow and it will be to them that we, the adults of today, hand the reins of government.

There was a time, not so long ago when our children wore little lockets suspended from a chain around their necks. Today, they are known as "door key children." In many cases the lockets are gone. Taking their place is to you. We are: A grannie and a grand father, two mothers, one daughter of 17, 1 boy of 14, 2 little boys of 5 and a little girl of 3 years.

Christmas is near, may your hearts be opened for those who had no Christmas since two years. Our dear old ones don't know more a cup of coffee or bed, grandfather no tobacco and the children, the little ones, never has seen in their life sweeties and chocolate. Perhaps you will pack something of these so wonderful things in a little packet for us and a piece of soap please. Nobody of my dear people knows about my letter to you. It shall be Christmas surprise for them.

With kind regards yours,
Sincerely Margaret Lihnorr.

the house key suspended from a piece of string.

THERE WAS A TIME, too, not so long ago, when little children, returning from school, could be certain that their mothers would be home to greet them. Today, there is no such certainty. Many mothers work because it is necessary that they do so. Many work who could afford to stay at home. Many just naturally gad. Look into cocktail bars any afternoon from four to six. These, you will find, are heavily populated with women.

Children, free to roam the streets, can easily be drawn into waywardness. J. Edgar Hoover places the blame for delinquency directly in the home.

The moral caliber of America should be the greatest concern of every citizen. No nation can remain strong and great when delinquency and crime get the upperhand.

The Smiths were on the balcony and could hear the young couple in the garden below. Mrs. Smith nudged her husband and whispered, "I think he wants to propose. We ought not to listen. Whistle at him."

"Why should I?" her husband asked. "Nobody whistled at me."

Student, trying to pick her up: "The fellows bet me a dollar I didn't dare speak to you. You don't mind, do you?"

Girl-of-the-Week: "Not at all. Now run along and get your dollar."

Motorist (to man he just ran over): "Hey, look out back there!" Victim: "What's the matter? Ya ain't coming back, are you?"

American Legion National Head is Visitor in Village

National commander of the American Legion, Paul H. Griffith, on a tour of Southern California with Mrs. Griffith and son Paul Jr., was the honored guests of the Owen Coffman Post of the American Legion here. Accompanying the national commander was California state commander Richard H. Chamberlain, and Mrs. Chamberlain, of Piedmont.

While here the Legion party, including Mr. and Mrs. Morrie Cohen, of Hollywood, were guests of Earl Coffman at the Desert Inn.

Before going to the Colonial House for dining and dancing as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Davis, the group enjoyed cocktails in the Fiesta House of the

Two Cottages Lost in Flames

Two fires last night called out the fire department, one of them resulting in total destruction of two cottages and the other in nominal damage in a down town store.

The first blaze, at 6:43 p.m., was on the Lawrence Crossley property and totally destroyed two cottages there. One was occupied by S. Hendrix and the other by E. Daniels. Loss was estimated at $2,000.

At 7:10 p.m. the department was called to the Village Pharmacy where a motor in a refrigeration unit caught fire. Damage was confined to the motor.

PUBLISHER—Reading a newspaper, like a postman on his day off, is Thomas M. Storke, publisher of the Santa Barbara News-Press, shown relaxing in the patio of the Desert Inn. Storke, who also owns Radio Station KTMS, was at one time interim Senator from California replacing the late William G. McAdoo. He and Mrs. Storke spent several days at the Desert Inn and returned home New Year's Day, via the Rose Bowl game in Pasadena. (Desert Camera Shop Photo.)

Visitor Suggests Tours of Village To Show What We Have to Offer

Glendale Couple Celebrate Here

Mr. and Mrs. A. Duckat of Glendale, are at the El Moracco hotel here to mark an anniversary.

They wouldn't say how long they have been married but just that it has been a long, long time and Palm Springs is the best place to celebrate an anniversary.

Enjoying the desert sun over the holidays are the Mrs. Avis de la Gera and Mrs. Calaway, both from the British Isles. They are house guests of Mrs. Jane Mooney of La Cita.

"I didn't realize how many beautiful homes you had here in Palm Springs until my good friend, Nate Milner, took me on a tour," declared Thomas M. Storke, publisher of the Santa Barbara News-Press, and owner of Radio Station KTMS.

"More people should see and know about your handsome homes and excellent architecture," said Storke, one time interim senator from California, who filled the unexpired term of the late William Gibbs McAdoo. "In Santa Barbara we have guided, well regulated tours of our attractive homes and gardens and people go away from our town with a much better and favorable picture of Santa Barbara. I feel sure that such an idea, sponsored by the chamber of commerce, would do Palm Springs a world of good."

STORKE is perhaps the oldest newspaperman in California, a veteran of 47 years experience in the field of journalism. He started the News-Press in 1900, on the first day of the year, and has been active in both newspaper and political circles ever since.

The Storke family spent the New Year holiday at the Desert Inn where they had several reunions with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Duane Jacobs. Jacobs was formerly Editor of the News-Press and is spending the winter at the Desert Inn with his wife.

When questioned about his opinion of Palm Springs, Storke remarked, "I only wish I could stay longer. I am going to come back again soon for a much longer visit. This bright, warm sunshine is most enjoyable," he said.

Villagers Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Lippman are entertaining the William A. Lippman Jr.'s for a few days over the holidays, and also young Larry Lippman is here with them from school.

Cathedral City

By W. R. HILLERY

Yes, these notes are by W. R. Hillery and one reason for them is that last week Mary Wolseth's notes were credited to me in error. I don't want to discourage Mary for the mighty fine work she is doing and I understand that following this hectic week she will continue her Cathedral City Roundup.

Another reason for these notes of mine is that someone must speak in the community about a matter that was published in The Desert Sun last week. The matter of vacating a portion of one of our already too narrow streets. A legal notice appeared setting a hearing for January 20 in the supervisors room in Riverside at which time protests may be heard relative to vacating 20 feet from the west side of Glenn avenue as it joins the highway on the south. It is hard to understand why two property owners, although only one owns property on Glenn avenue, should be a party to anything that shrinks our already too narrow streets and that particular corner is a bottle neck now. Plumley place joins Glenn avenue at that corner and it is quite certain that Plumley place will soon be one of the secondary streets for business and will need space for an outlet on the highway.

PROPERTY OWNERS on our main avenue as well as those on Glenn and other streets should begin to think of the problems of traffic that are stealing in on us without planning. There are six other 20 foot setbacks on the ends of the wedge shaped lots in Cathedral City that would be effected by the granting of this petition.

There are fifty owners of property facing directly on the highway or having unobstructed opening on the highway. I believe that every owner touching the highway on the north side of the street agreed to a four foot setback. Within the chamber of commerce these owners should get together and have those on the South side agree to a four foot setback and the agreement be binding on their successors and assigns. The Civic association could also start the ball rolling to get the side street owners to agree, to say, a five foot setback, which would give us fifty foot side or residential streets and allow for sidewalk space that is not now available in a forty foot street such as we have.

THERE ARE many things we can do by agreement, now, that would also require agreement if we were to incorporate. Personally I would resist incorporation on our own, I would rather see us join with Palm Springs.

Whether Palm Springs would be overjoyed with additional headaches I do not know, but Palm Springs is expanding in the only direction that is feasible and will shortly have a common boundary line with us. When the Melrose land is put on the market our community will move a half mile toward Palm Springs. That leaves only a mile and a half between us. That's right, Section 19, where that immense housing project is under way in Palm Springs touches the corner of 29 or what we call Ceres ranch and that in turn corners on our section 33. Roads, sanitation, flood control and many other things are common problems not fully realized by either community.

Doing the Village

with Moya Henderson

1946 is now a year of the past but it took quite a bit of celebrating to see it into history. One of the jolliest parties took place at Thunderbird ranch and was instigated by Mary Jane Hicks and Barbara Hinkle. Although Frank Bogert is not quite ready for his grand opening he generously gave the group the use of the lobby and dining room. Invitations were extended to about twenty five couples to come to a hard time formal and therein lay the fun. Hutch Mosely wore tails, high silk hat, fancy dancing shoes with high button tops and blue jeans. Mary Jane wore long white underwear with fancy garters under her old fashioned formal, many of the gals chose sequin blouses to wear with levis and Kenny Paul's denim frock coat was topped off with a silk hat and a gorgeous mustache. The Palm Springs Tennis Club was the scene of another gay gathering. Both new and old dining rooms were crowded to capacity. Earl and Frances Strebe had as their guests Zedie Bunker and Lilly Goff. The Merrill Crocketts with Josephine Sprague and Gordon Feekings made up another table and nearby were the Carl Lykkens and John Munnhollands.

FORMAL ATTIRE predominated at the Desert Inn topped off by very gay and original paper hats.

TOM AND BETTY KIELY hosted a table of ten at which Jack Hardy had a great time by building Alice Hough up to surrounding tables as a coming movie star. The Charlie Mathews were with the George Robersons and the Geggies were with a party headed by the Earl Coffman's. Ruth Roberson and her guests left soon after midnight to see what was doing up at the Racquet Club. Feature of the floor show were Johnny and Tani Boyle, Tani coming back for two hula encores.

At another end of town Georgianna Raymond and Hortense Murray held open house and rang the new year in at Hortense's abode. Dottie and Jay Morrison and Elmo and Anne Purnell were other couples who hosted parties at home. Shirley Dodge due at the Purnell's decided to take a short nap before starting her drive down from Riverside and didn't wake up till three in the morning so came down the next day to wish her friends a Happy New Year. The Joe Butlers and Earl Neels drove to Idyllwild for the night and although disappointed at not finding snow, celebrated the evening in great style at the Fern Valley Lodge. People all over Southern California heeded the warnings of the police forces and it was a safe and sane New Year's Eve.

Leave us skip lightly over the Rose Bowl Classic, certainly classic playing by Illinois who brought out here a very peppy and fast ball club. That boy Buddy Young is everything they've said about him and more but it was hard to sit next to a group of Old Illini alums dining at the San Gabriel Country Club and toasting their Alma Mater and singing, 'We're loyal to you, Illinois.'

The Francis Crocker returned to the Village in time to see 1946 fade out. They spent the Christmas holidays in Denver with Mr. Crocker's father, a frequent visitor in the Village. 'Curly' Knorr saw what looked to be a familiar face in the Post Office last week so he looked again and finally went over and tapped the fellow on the shoulder. He turned out to be Curly's commanding officer in the Italian campaign and none other than Col. Frank Kurtz, well known in the Village not only for his war record but as a champion diver who frequented local pools long before the war. Col. Kurtz and his wife Margo came down to spend the holidays.

Pledge: "Can't I take a little time off and rest a bit? My head's spinning around and it seems like the ceiling is coming down on me."

House Manager: "Here, take this rag and wipe the dust from the rafters when they get near enough."

Cathedral City

organizing meeting is scheduled in Coachella that may have far reaching results. It is a regional committee formed to advise and coordinate the county planning commission acts in so far as the Coachella valley is concerned and probably will be the for-runner of the county building code and a zoning ordinance that we so need in the unincorporated land.

OUR FAR NORTH trip last summer is bearing fruit. C. J. Rogers, president of the White Pass & Yukon route with Mrs. Rogers are on the desert for a bit of vacation. They should be in Cathedral City but due to the housing shortage I was compelled to get their reservations in suburban Palm Springs. Others from the North are due here soon. When I refer to the north I mean nothing short of Puget Sound.

Dr. Purcell Home Scene of Merry Holiday Gathering

One of the loveliest parties of the season was given Saturday afternoon by Dr. and Mrs. Frank Purcell. It was an open house given between six and eight and nearly every one in the Village was present. All in all, there were more than fifty guests.

Mrs. Purcell's decorations carried out the Christmas theme with holly and red candles. The list of guests enjoying the party reads like the Palm Springs social register... including such prominent villagers as Messrs. and Mmes. Barney Hinkle, Newton Hotchkiss, Milton Hicks, Harold Hicks, C. G. Lyken, Robert Ransom, Carl Haymond, Fred Ingraham, Charles Mathews, Johnny Wood, Edward Bacon, Frank Bogert, Harry Harper, George Roberts, Florian Boyd, Bill Colburn, Ben Sher, Chief and Mrs. A. G. Kettmann, Dr. and Mrs. James Oliver, Dr. and Mrs. P. A. Staley, and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. L. Chaffee, also Mrs. Alice Guthrie and Mrs. Margaret Handberry.

After the cocktail party, many of the guests stopped by the Tennis Club for dinner.

The Mini-Max batteries used today in personal camera-sized radios are identical with the batteries which powered the Navy's famed Sonobuoy for detecting submarines during the war.

At the Desert Inn

The New Year was given a glorious welcome at the Desert Inn on Tuesday night when at the stroke of twelve, thousands of balloons were released from overhead in the DeAnza Room where this gay event took place. Illuminated by candlelight, and festive with holiday decorations and favors, this spacious room was crowded to capacity by a fashionable crowd who gathered to dance the old year out and the New Year in to the strains of Billie Hunter's famous radio and recording orchestra.

A highlight of the evening was the elaborate floor show featuring Lucille and Eddie Burnett in exciting magic acts, — Freddie Dossch of French Follies fame in a number of hilarious sound impersonations, — and Tani Boyle who proved herself more than popular with her exquisite interpretation of native Hawaiian dances.

THIS FESTIVE AFFAIR which was attended by prominent guests from all parts of the country, was the scene of many delightful dinner parties. Among those entertaining were Dr. and Mrs. D. Dudley Bumpus and Miss Gale Bumpus of Beverly Hills; Mr. and Mrs.

At the La Paz

La Paz Guest Ranch is happy to announce that Wally Turner now is associated with their organization as maitre d'hotel. Coming here directly from the Del Mar club in Santa Monica, Mr. Turner is well known locally as he was with Chi-Chi in Palm Springs all last season.

Having taken over the duties in La Paz's dining room on December 1, he now personally supervises the serving of champagnes, sparkling burgundies and other wines to the guests and visitors at the smart guest ranch.

Mr. Turner began his dining room experience with the Fred Harvey system, and was at Grand Canyon in both El Tovar and Bright Angel lodge. Many will remember him when he was with Hotel del Coronado, the Lodge at Lake Arrowhead, Franciscan hotel in Albuquerque and other noted hostleries.

AFTER LEAVING Chi-Chi last season, which then was under the ownership of Irving Schumann, Mr. Turner took over the dining room at the Del Mar Club. This just had been returned to civilian use after having been a rest home for service men all during the war years. He stepped in on June 1 and organized the dining room to serve 500 persons for luncheons and dinners. During his regime there he personally arranged the Black and White ball in October, which was one of the social highlights for Los Angeles society leaders. That evening more than 800 assembled for dinner and dancing at the club. Later this fall the Gay Nineties ball was staged there as one of the major parties of the year.

He is well able to plan and handle large wedding receptions and has had several such parties at La Paz since coming to Palm Springs this month. Two of Beverly Hills' biggest wedding receptions were held at the Del Mar club during his time as maitre d'hotel there. They included the Passarelli wedding, which assembled a group of over 300 friends at the reception, and the Frances Regan wedding reception on October 12.

A TREMENDOUS HOLIDAY season has been enjoyed at La Paz this year with the already famous excellent cuisine being made even more elegant by having available champagnes, sparkling burgundies, other dinner wines and beer with meals. These all are personally served under the supervision of the new maitre d'hotel.

During the war Mr. Turner was with the army air forces for several years.

Six Big Airplanes Find Refuge Here

Their progress halted by a severe wind and sandstorm between here and their home port at Ontario, six big four-motored transport planes of the Pacific Overseas Airways, found refuge at the local airport yesterday.

The POA operates out of Ontario to the Orient.

The local port, of which Mary Nelson is operator, was the only one large enough with favorable weather, to handle the fleet.

MORE ABOUT ...*Slaying ...

across the street from the Knotty Pine Cafe, indicate that Mrs. Beverly was dead within ten minutes after stepping inside the door of her cottage.

THE STORY as reported to police and the Desert Sun has the two women stepping through the door of the cottage, turning on the electric lights only to see Tuthill, lying face down fully clothed on one of the beds.

"Let's get out of here. There's your husband," shouted the frightened Mrs. Beaver, it was reported.

But Mrs. Beverly refused to go and instead stepped over to the bed and awakened Tuthill. He is reported to have sat bolt upright in bed and in his hand he held the 22 caliber rifle, which was later declared to be the death weapon.

THIS SCENE was enough for Mrs. Beaver and she ran screaming from the house begging Mrs. Beverly to follow. Instead, the murder victim is said to have assuaged the fears of her friend by saying:

"He won't shoot me," and went just outside the door of the cottage to beg her friend Mrs. Beaver to return to the cottage.

As Mrs. Beverly stepped back into the house, a shot was heard and she dropped to the floor, Mrs. Beaver reported. Later physicians declared that she had died instantly.

WHEN THE SHOT RANG out on the still morning air of a new year, Mrs. Beaver rushed to the Knotty Pine to tell the proprietor there what had happened. Although she did not know it then, she shouted that Tuthill had "shot and killed Mrs. Beverly."

About seven or eight persons, hearing Mrs. Beaver's story rushed to the cottage in hope of helping Mrs. Beverly. But the lights in the cottage were turned out and both front and rear doors locked.

IN THE GROUP were Bill DeHaven, and Ralph McLearn. After hammering on the rear door shouting for Tuthill to open up and tell what he did with Charlotte, they were successful in getting a reply to the fact that she was not in the house. About this time McLearn forced an entry through the back door but was confronted by Tuthill when he attempted to enter the living room. Meanwhile Bill DeHaven and his wife rushed around to the front of the house and forced the front door open. The electric lights were flashed on and there just inside of entrance was the body of Mrs. Beverly lying face downward.

QUESTIONED. Tuthill denied any knowledge of the shooting. "If she has been shot," he is reported to have said, "so what? I didn't do it."

Then while sheriffs were rushing here from Banning and Indio, Tuthill was reported to have disappeared and wasn't seen again in Cathedral City until deputy sheriffs returned him to the scene of the murder.
